What is Street Creative Photo? It is hunting for interesting opportunities of frame composition, surprising perspectives, extraordinary events. The idea and quick reaction in the decisive moment are more important than precise adjustment of photo parameters. These images are totally spontaneous, they are created without any plan or preparation. It is the impuls that prompts you to fix the moment in a photo. In just a few seconds, you take out your camera and create something unique. It is all about playing with photography, being open and searching for inspiration everywhere and all the time. The winners of the "Następna Stacja Kreacja" (Next Station Creation) competition have managed to achieve that, and their works are presented in this exhibition.
